

Please leave internet neutrality alone. If it isn't broken, don't fix it. By removing these regulations, we would be allowing ISP's to charge more to the consumer for content that is already available to them. It also have the potential to shut out small business and remove competition. No one is asking for this. Thank you.